ABOUT THE AUTHORS

IRVING BERLIN (Music and Lyrics) produced a catalog of more than 1,000 songs—ballads, dance numbers, novelty tunes, and love songs—that defined American popular songs for much of the century, epitomizing Jerome Kern's maxim: "Irving Berlin has no place in American music; he is American music." His 17 Broadway musicals and revues include The Cocoanuts, As Thousands Cheer, Louisiana Purchase, Miss Liberty, Mister President, Call Me Madam, and Annie Get Your Gun. Berlin's Hollywood scores include Top Hat, Follow the Fleet, On the Avenue, Alexander's Ragtime Band, Holiday Inn, This Is the Army, Blue Skies, Easter Parade, White Christmas, and There's No Business Like Show Business. Among his many awards and accolades were a special Tony Award (1963), the Academy Award for Best Song of the Year for “White Christmas,” and several medals of honor in recognition of his patriotic contributions to his country.

PETER STONE (Revisions) wrote the books for Titanic, 1776, The Will Rogers Follies, and Woman of the Year, which all won the Tony Award for Best Musical. His other musicals are My One and Only, Sugar, Two By Two, and Kean. He won an Academy Award for his screenplay Father Goose, the Edgar (Mystery Writers of America Award) for his film Charade, and the Christopher Award for the screen adaptation of 1776. Other films: The Taking of Pelham 1-2-3, Sweet Charity, Who's Killing the Great Chefs of Europe?, and Just Cause. Writing for TV, he won the Emmy Award (the only writer ever to win the Tony, Oscar, and Emmy) for an episode of “The Defenders.” He served as president of the Dramatist Guild from 1981 to 1998.

Irving Berlin’s opening number to Annie Get Your Gun has become the unofficial theatre anthem for show people around the world. It is an unforgettable tune that captures the essence of life in the entertainment business like no other song in history. Only Berlin could so eloquently express the highs and lows that accompany a theatrical career. Remarkably, Berlin was concerned about including “There’s No Business Like Show Business” due to a muted initial response from his colleagues. Unbeknownst to Berlin, their silence was one of awe rather than disapproval. When Berlin submitted his score for the second round of rehearsals without the famous song, he drew the following reaction:

“Where’s that ‘Show Business’ thing?” Hammerstein asked, sure that he had misplaced the number.

“I left it out,” Berlin said somberly.

“In Heaven’s name, why?” Hammerstein inquired.

“I didn’t think you liked it,” Irving retorted. “You didn’t say enough.”

Later, Hammerstein reflected on the situation: “He was just going to throw it away. Now out of context of the play, it’s merely the song that means show business.”

However, despite Berlin’s incredible work on the production, he was not the original intended composer and lyricist for Annie Get Your Gun. Dorothy Fields conceived the idea for the musical and she intended to write the lyrics and co-write the book with her brother Herbert. She stated that the idea formed in her head after witnessing a decorated soldier who was extremely successful at a Coney Island shooting gallery. This observation conjured images of the famous sharpshooter Annie Oakley and the idea for the show was born. Dorothy and Herbert felt that the role of Annie Oakley would best suit the inimitable Ethel Merman. What’s more, her star power was sure to attract a producer and an expanded audience in the critical early stages of the run.

To compose the score, Dorothy and her collaborators contracted the prolific and renowned composer Jerome Kern. After some negotiations, he reluctantly agreed to leave Hollywood and return to New York City to work on the project. Tragically, Kern was in town for three days before succumbing to a stroke at the age of sixty. President Harry Truman, who was in office at the time of Kern’s death, stated the following: “[Kern’s] melodies will live in our voices and warm our hearts for many years to come. The man who gave them to us earned a lasting place in his nation’s history.”

Despite Kern’s unfortunate demise, producers Rodgers and Hammerstein were successful in contracting Irving Berlin to compose the music and lyrics for Annie Get Your Gun. “This is perhaps the only time in stage history that one of America’s greatest song writers was acting as producer of a musical comedy for which another all-time great was writing the score. While Rodgers never entered into Berlin’s domain by making suggestions on the kind of music needed (no more than Berlin would tell Rodgers how to run the production), this unusual association resulted in one of the richest and most varied scores Berlin ever wrote for the stage and made possible the greatest box-office success of his career.”

Berlin, however, was accustomed to writing both lyrics and music and he had no experience writing for a “situation show.” In response, Dorothy Fields was willing to relinquish her role as lyricist. Berlin was nervous about the arrangement, until he traveled to New York’s Catskills Mountains and returned with the first five songs. In the Catskills he composed “Doin’ What Comes Natur’ly,” “You Can’t Get a Man with a Gun,” “They Say It’s Wonderful,” and “The Girl That I Marry.” As a testament to his talent, Berlin completed the entire score before the first day of rehearsals.

Annie Get Your Gun ran for 1,147 performances after opening at the Imperial Theatre on May 16, 1946 and it went on to be a four-year hit in London. The show was revived on Broadway in 1966 with Ethel Merman reprising the role of Annie. A second revival was staged on Broadway in 1999, starring Bernadette Peters. In an effort to make the show more “politically correct,” Peter Stone revised the script and Goodspeed Musicals is using his version. Goodspeed Director Rob Ruggiero stated that, “Peter Stone did an incredible job of re-shaping that revival in a way that highlighted all the wonderful things about the show for more contemporary audiences.” Stone added a romantic relationship between Winnie, the sister of Frank’s assistant, and Tommy, a Native American boy. He also creates a Wild West show-within-a-show that highlights the relationship between Frank Butler and Annie. Ruggiero is excited to embrace the show-within-a-show concept while preserving the wonderful entertainment value of the production. He also hopes that you will enjoy his beautiful and authentic “Wild West Show” approach. We at Goodspeed are thrilled to present this enduring musical and triumph of the Broadway stage!
The Goodspeed Opera House has endured as a majestic presence on the Connecticut River since it was built in 1876 by William H. Goodspeed, a shipping and banking magnate and avid theater lover. Since that time the Opera House has lived two lives: the first as a bustling center of commerce, housing a theatre, professional offices, steamboat passenger terminal, and a general store; and the second, after a period of neglect and deterioration, as a magnificent professional musical theatre fully restored in 1963 to its original splendor.

Goodspeed’s history goes back to its opening night on October 24, 1877, when a repertory group presented the comedy Charles II and the farces Box and Cox and Turn Him Out. Featured performers of the day were brought to East Haddam by steamboat, many directly from theatre in New York.

After William Goodspeed’s death, the theatre was eventually sold and used as a storage depot for the State Highway Department. The building was marked for demolition in 1958, but local preservationists became interested and in 1959 The Goodspeed Opera House Foundation was organized to restore and reactivate the theatre. With the cooperation of the State of Connecticut and the support of donor-members, the Goodspeed Opera House was restored and rededicated on June 18, 1963, with the opening of the musical Oh Lady! Lady!!
Goodspeed Musicals was first formed as The Goodspeed Opera House Foundation in 1959 to restore the 19th century Goodspeed Opera House as a professional theatre. Under the direction of Michael P. Price since 1968, Goodspeed has achieved acclaim as the home of musical theatre. Mixing classics by the Gershwins, Cole Porter, and Jerome Kern with the very best of this country’s newest musicals, such as Annie, Man of La Mancha, and Shenandoah, Goodspeed pioneered the practice of rethinking, restoring, and revitalizing America’s musical theatre heritage.

Goodspeed Opera House
Dedicated to the preservation and advancement of musical theatre, Goodspeed produces three musicals April through December on its mainstage in East Haddam. Nineteen Goodspeed productions have gone on to Broadway, receiving more than a dozen Tony Awards. Goodspeed itself has been awarded two Special Tony Awards, one in 1980 for outstanding contributions to the American musical and a second in 1995 for distinguished achievement for a regional theatre.

Located in rural East Haddam on the Connecticut River, the historic Victorian-style Opera House takes musicals from the past and brings them to life for today's audiences.

New Musicals at The Norma Terris Theatre
Goodspeed is at the forefront of shaping the future of musical theatre. At The Norma Terris Theatre, located in nearby Chester, Goodspeed develops new musicals and nurtures emerging artists. Goodspeed has launched over 50 musicals into the theater world at The Norma Terris Theatre, giving composers and authors the opportunity to develop their material through actual production. Audience response is a vital part of this theatre. Regular input is actively sought through “Talkback” discussions with the creative staff, giving audiences the opportunity to play a part in creating a new musical.

The Scherer Library of Musical Theatre
The Scherer Library of Musical Theatre is integral in perpetuating our national musical heritage. The Library preserves scores, sheet music, scripts, original cast recordings, playbills and theatre memorabilia. In addition to making this collection available for study and research, the library provides the Goodspeed creative staff with original source material to assist in the faithful re-creation of musicals.

The Max Showalter Center for Education in the Musical Theater
In 2002, Goodspeed Musicals established The Max Showalter Center for Education in the Musical Theater. The Center encourages and nurtures musical theatre artists and students by providing a unique and comprehensive array of training and educational programs to serve both the national and local academic communities. As a part of that mission, the Center conducts the annual Goodspeed Musical Theatre Institute in collaboration with New York University’s Tisch School of the Arts and The Hartt School at the University of Hartford. In addition, it offers education pages on Goodspeed's website, allowing visitors to further participate in and appreciate the rich and vibrant world of musical theatre. For more information, please call Education Director Joshua Ritter at 860.873.8664, ext. 745.

Infra-red Hearing System:
The Goodspeed Opera House offers the Sennheiser infra-red hearing system to assist hearing-impaired patrons through the generosity of Carol Sirot. Free headsets are available from the box office.

Special Services:
Goodspeed provides elevator service to the orchestra level of the Opera House. To avoid the steps in front of the theatre, please ask for a House Manager when you arrive. You will be directed to our elevator at street level outside the building. Handicapped parking is located in front of the Gelston House. If you require special assistance of any kind (for example, to remove a theatre seat to accommodate a wheelchair, early admittance to the theatre, or assistance getting to your seats), please inform the Box Office when you purchase your tickets.

Parking:
Free parking is available to Goodspeed patrons. Turn right after the Gelston House when passing the theatre and free parking is on the right. A path along the river leads from the parking lot across a foot bridge to the theatre.

Goodspeed Guild:
The Goodspeed Guild is a volunteer organization dedicated to supporting Goodspeed Musicals’ operations and productions. Since 1975 it has provided services to artists, patrons, and staff on a year-round basis, while offering its members the opportunity to become part of the behind-the-scenes activities at Goodspeed. To find out about volunteer opportunities that fit your interests and schedule, visit our website at goodspeed.org or contact Amy Campbell at 203.494.7328.

Sets, costumes, and props are designed especially for the Goodspeed Opera House and are built in Goodspeed Musicals’ shops.

Goodspeed Musicals is a professional theatre operating under an agreement between the League of Resident Theatres and Actors’ Equity Association, the Union of Professional Actors and Stage Managers in the United States. Orchestra members are represented by Middletown Musicians Protective Association, Local 499, American Federation of Musicians.
